Burning Airliner Lands Safely At Pittsburgh

Pilot, Stewardess, Firefighters Avert Major Tragedy

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An airliner landed in flames at Greater Pittsburgh Airport Thursday but thanks to a quick-acting pilot, a calm stewardess and expert fire fighters a major tragedy was averted.

Fifty passengers poured out of the Capital Airlines DC4 seconds after it ground to a halt while firemen riding alongside in trucks poured flame-quenching foam on the plane.

Not a person was injured seriously. Nine were treated either for shock or bruises.

"When we stepped on the ground we thanked God," said Mrs. John Burnham of Buffalo. "He was with us today."

Mrs. Burnham, her husband and two young daughters were on the first leg of a vacation trip to Florida.

There was no indication of an emergency as the big airplane, piloted by R. L. Calhoun of Alexandria, Va., circled the airport and approached for a landing. But the plane landed "hard," an airport official said.

A Capital spokesman said instruments in the cockpit indicated the landing gear was not secured so Calhoun zoomed the big ship into the air. Seconds later the right inboard engine caught fire and flames raced along the fuselage.

As the passengers tensed, the airplane's public address system blared:

"Prepare for a crash landing."

There was a momentary rush of passengers toward an emergency door and some slight panic, Mrs. Burnham said. But stewardess Katherine Szymanski of New Kensington, Pa., shouted, "Keep calm."

Capt. Calhoun, who had alerted the airport, set the plane down in a few seconds.

The Capital spokesman said there was no indication of what caused the "hard" landing on the first attempt. He declared the Buffalo-to-Pittsburgh plane could have possibly been caught in a wind current.

The spokesman said the impact of the landing apparently caused a fuel line or tank to burst.

Youngstown Driver Is Shot Dead In Traffic Argument

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 22-year-old motorist, angered because a car was blocking traffic on a bridge, was shot dead when he got out to fight about it early today.

Police found August E. Bailey of Youngstown lying on a bridge at 3:15 a.m., dying of a gunshot wound in the chest. An unidentified friend was leaning over the dying man, crying hysterical ly.

A short time later police arrested Robert A. Murdock, 35, also of Youngstown. Detective Lt. Frank Watters said Murdock admitted the shooting. He was jailed with out charge.

Lt. Watters said Murdock related that he was walking home from a poker game when he stopped to talk to his brother on the bridge. A car driven by a friend stopped alongside them, and the three started conversing.

Murdock said Bailey drove up behind the stopped car and shouted at the driver to move it. When he did not do so, Bailey got out, called the driver names and threatened to beat him up, Murdock related.

When Bailey came at him, Murdock said he fired several shots at his feet, but they did not stop him. He said Bailey knocked him down, and when he got up he fired the shot which proved fatal.

Police arrested Murdock in a taxi cab. Watters said he told of officers he had returned to the hotel where he lives, changed clothes and reloaded his pistol "to get the rest of them."

Good Friday

And it was almost the sixth hour; and there was darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

And the sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple was rent in the midst.

And Jesus crying with a loud voice, said: Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit. And saying this, he gave up the ghost.

Parents Are Given Suspended Sentence

LISBON — Merle Adams, 39, and his wife, Elva Jean, 32, of East Palestine were each given a suspended year's sentence for contributing to the delinquency of their two children, age 7 and 8.

Both were arrested early Sunday morning for creating a disturbance at a local diner. Their children were with them at the time, police said.

Police filed intoxication and resisting arrest charges against them and then added a charge of malicious destruction of property against Mrs. Adams after she broke down the door in the detention room at village hall.

Mayor Warren will rule Saturday on the latter charge.

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin placed the two children with a relative of Mrs. Adams and the parents will have to abide by probation terms for six months before Judge Tobin will hear their application to have them returned to them.

JERUSALEM, Jordan (AP)—Religious devotions of many different faiths overshadowed political crises in the Holy Land this Good Friday.

It was Easter season for both Western and Eastern Christians. But it also was a holy time for Moslems and Samaritans. Across the frontier in Israel, Jews were completing their Passover holidays.

Jordan Prime Minister Hussein Khalidi, installed this week after his nation's acute political crisis, went to his home in Jericho to observe the Moslem day of rest. The Arab country as a whole appeared momentarily more interested in religion than politics.

In Arab Jerusalem, where most of the holy places are located, hotels were jammed with visiting pilgrims. The tourist bureau estimated 4,000 visitors poured in during Holy Week, reminiscent of the busy days the city knew before last year's succession of crises and war.

Free Funds For Relief Checks

Congressmen Leave On Easter Recess

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of Congress scattered to their homes for a 10-day Easter recess today after freeing the 275 million dollars needed for relief checks to the aged and others in May and June.

The money for the federal share of the public assistance payments had been tied up in a dispute which has gone on with increasing bitterness between the House and Senate since February.

House members could claim a substantial victory, but senators vowed they would try again to get some of the money denied by the other branch.

The final version provides no money to continue a minerals buying program on which the Senate had insisted. President Eisenhower had asked 30 million dollars. The House declined to vote anything.

Also dropped was a Senate provision to authorize use of cottonseed cake and other high protein feeds in government drought relief programs. This had the backing of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

In the final windup on the bill Thursday, the Senate was victorious on one point, but this was not an issue involving any substantial money savings.

The House repeatedly sought to tie to the bill a limitation on the amount of federal funds that could be given to the states to help pay the cost of administering federal grants.

Welfare Department officials said that under the limitation, the federal government could not meet its obligation to the states. The 1935 Social Security law requires Washington to pay 50 per cent of the administrative costs.

The Senate fought against any limitation, and the House finally gave in. Rep. Taber (R-NY) complained that some states were spending far too much on the administrative costs.

As it was sent to Eisenhower, the only major item in the measure aside from the 275 millions of public assistance funds was 45 millions for small business loans. Omitted from the legislation for later consideration were funds asked by the President for farm ownership loans, disaster loans and conservation measures in drought areas.

American-Standard Recalls 138 Workers

One hundred and thirty-eight employees have been recalled to their jobs at the Youngstown Kitchens Division of the American-Standard Corp. here.

Previously furloughed, the workers will make up a partial second turn at the No. 3 plant, manufacturing wall cabinets and a new oven cabinet for the company's Youngstown Kitchens line.

Application of natural wood doors to steel wall cabinets for a new Monterey style kitchen just being introduced by the company is an added operation at the plant.

CHICAGO (AP)—Three burglars were shot to death early today in a quick and violent gun battle with seven detectives as they prepared to break open a State Street department store vault containing a quarter-million dollars.

The gunmen, including a former policeman, walked into a police trap in Mandel Bros. store and were mowed down by police machine guns and shotgun bullets.

The detectives, who had been hiding in the 11th floor credit department for seven hours after receiving a tip on the planned burglary, escaped unhurt.

Lt. James J. Lynch said the three men, carrying burglary tools were about to attempt to open a safe when the detectives ordered them to surrender.

Inside the wall safe, said William Tohy, deputy chief of detectives, was "approximately $250,000" in currency. But the gunmen did not get a chance to attempt to open it.

Lynch said the burglars opened fire. The police, armed with three machine guns and four shotguns, exchanged shots, killing all three. No policeman was hurt.

It was not disclosed how the

Seek Robber's $66,000 Loot

FBI Agent Slain By Trapped Bandit

SUFFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Police pressed their search today for the $66,000 loot of a payroll robber and wife slayer who shot and killed an FBI agent here Thursday and blew his own brains out.

The gunplay here ended the 19-day flight of Francis Kolakowski, 42, a Hartford, Conn., factory worker who was accused of shooting his estranged wife to death March 29 while his 13-year-old daughter watched.

Police say he slipped out of hiding long enough to rob a $36,000 payroll from a Windsor factory last week.

Since then police had been hot on his heels. They caught up with him Thursday this way:

His sister, Mrs. Wanda Slater, was hanging out the washing in her back yard when she heard someone whistle and call her name from the nearby woods.

She ran into the house and looked out a window, and saw a figure coming out of the woods that looked like her brother. She ran out the front door and drove to police headquarters.

State and local police soon surrounded the little white frame house, but they didn't know if the killer was inside. There was no cover nearby, so police edged up to an outside cellar hatchway and several of them ducked inside.

FBI special agent Richard Horan, 35, was one of them.

Suddenly the kitchen door at the top of the cellar stairs was flung open and the panicky killer fired blindly into the cellar.

The slug hit Horan, who had been crossing in front of the stairs, in the chest. He turned, fired once up the stairs, and collapsed.

State Police Capt. Philip Schwartz pulled Horan to a protected place in the cellar, but the agent was dead.

Then 20 minutes later two shots rang out from the kitchen. Police didn't know it, but the killer had shot himself to death.

State Theater Broken Into During Night

The State Theater at 490 E. State St. was broken into sometime between 11:15 p.m. Thursday and 1:20 this morning, but nothing was reported missing, police revealed today.

Patrolmen William Ritchie and Richard Whinnery discovered the front doors of the theater were left open around 1:20 a.m. while they were making a routine check of downtown stores.

The intruder had shaken the doors until the screws came loose. He then removed the screws, allowing the door to swing open.

The patrolmen summoned the theater's assistant manager, Thomas Sheets, to the scene. Sheets told police nothing was missing from any of the offices, refreshment machine, or candy counter.

Petitions Of Objection To Be Circulated

225 Residents Of School District Attend Meeting

More than 225 "United Local School District residents" unanimously voted against the merger of United with the West Local School district at a meeting last night at United School.

The school cafeteria was crowded with parents for the meeting which was organized in only one day by George Wilson, Duane Faloon, Francis Hall, Paul McKerns, Ralph Orsborn, and Gale Allison, United residents.

As a result of last night's session, both United and West district residents will petition for a remonstrance against the merger of United-West which was approved Tuesday evening by the Columbiana County Board of Education.

West Local Calls Off Vote on Levy

The West Local Board of Education met last night and voted unanimously to withdraw its request for a May 7 operating levy of 8-mills.

West Board members include Donald Baxter, Donald Stafford, Olan Sanor, Leonard Lowmiller and W. B. Phillips.

Some 50 persons attended the West meeting, including Lorin Ruif, county elementary school supervisor.

The board withdrew its request for the special levy because of the county board's action of merging West-United. A resolution will be certified to the county election board which already had completed plans for the special balloting.

Over 50 per cent of the qualified registered voters in the two districts must sign the remonstrance petitions to make the county board's action invalid, it is pointed out. Deadline for filing the petitions would be May 16, 30 days after the board's sanction of the merger.

Olan Sanor, a member of the opposition from West who favors the United-West merger, said this morning that "we will circulate petitions only in the West area," and "I know of no group that is organized as yet to counter the move in United district."

Guided Missile Invention Is Unveiled

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Scientists at Massachusetts Institute of Technology have unveiled a heretofore secret invention which they say can guide any craft or missile to any specified spot on earth, free from enemy interference.

The invention, called "Inertial Guidance," already has flown a B-29 bomber from Boston to Los Angeles.

The MIT scientists said, in unveiling inertial guidance Wednesday, that it operates without magnetic compass, radio or radar and without a glimpse of the earth, the sun or the stars. They said it needs no electronic signal or radar beam and therefore can't be jammed by enemy apparatus.

The developers explained that the heart of the system is a completely free-floating gyroscope sealed in a little four-inch cylinder about the size of a tomato can. They added that the extremely complicated mechanism always remains aimed in a fixed position in relation to the universe independent of the earth's motion. They said it can't be affected by other natural phenomena such as weather, sunspots and magnetic influences or polar flights.

The gyro wheel, spinning at 12,000 revolutions per minute, floats in a fluid and pivots on virtually frictionless sapphire bearings. The wheel is described as "a major breakthrough in the field of gyro technology." The scientists indicated it might be of very great importance in flight through outer space.

The system is being applied to flight and fire control as well as navigation. The MIT scientists have developed military applications for all three uses.

Inertial Guidance resulted from experiment begun in 1939 by Dr. Charles S. Draper, head of the MIT department of aeronautical engineering, who headed a group at MIT which developed the Mark XIV gunsight. The gunsight, in its first battle test, destroyed 32 attacking Japanese planes.

Barbed Wire Separates Holy Week Sites

Arab-Jewish Tension Cuts Observance

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tension between Jewish Israel and Arab Jordan make it impossible for Christian pilgrims to follow Christ's footsteps from the Last Supper to the Crucifixion. But "holy fire" symbolizing the hope of peace may yet come to this troubled land. Here is a report on divided Jerusalem at Easter, 1957, last in a series on famous sites of the Holy Land.

By WILTON WYNN

JERUSALEM (AP) — On the night of His crucifixion, Jesus and His apostles gathered in an upper room in Jerusalem for their last supper together. After the meal Jesus walked outside the city to the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives and awaited His inevitable betrayal and arrest.

Today, barbed wire, guns, and a hundred yards of no-man's-land prevent anyone walking from that upper room to the Mount of Olives. The site of the last supper is on the Israeli side of Jerusalem, while the Mount of Olives is on the Arab side.

ON EITHER SIDE of the no-man's land dividing the holy city are armed sentries, ready to blaze away at the slightest provocation. Jewish Israel and Arab Jordan have been in a state of war since 1948, with only an uneasy armistice silencing the guns on either side.

On April 1, the United States State Department lifted the travel ban which had put Israel and Jordan off limits to American tourists ever since the start of the Suez crisis. But even with the relaxation, the divided state of the city makes it difficult for pilgrims to retrace the footsteps of Christ during the events of the first Easter.

Before the 1948 Arab-Israeli war, a pilgrimage from the Latin convent inside the old city went to the Cenacle, site of the last supper, every year on Maundy Thursday. Because of the division of the city, this pilgrimage is no longer possible.

EVENTS OF THE LAST SUPPER still are commemorated, however, by Christian communities on the Arab side of the line. The Greek Orthodox hold a spectacular service every Wednesday before Easter in the courtyard of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

On a raised platform in the courtyard sit 12 men representing the apostles. The Orthodox patriarch — acting as Christ's earthly representative — washes the feet of each man, re-enacting Jesus' washing of His apostles feet at the last supper.

When Jesus walked from the upper room to the Mount of Olives, He had to walk almost the length of the city of Jerusalem and out through the Golden Gate on the east. He then had to pass over the Kidron Valley to reach the Garden of Gethsemane on the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives.

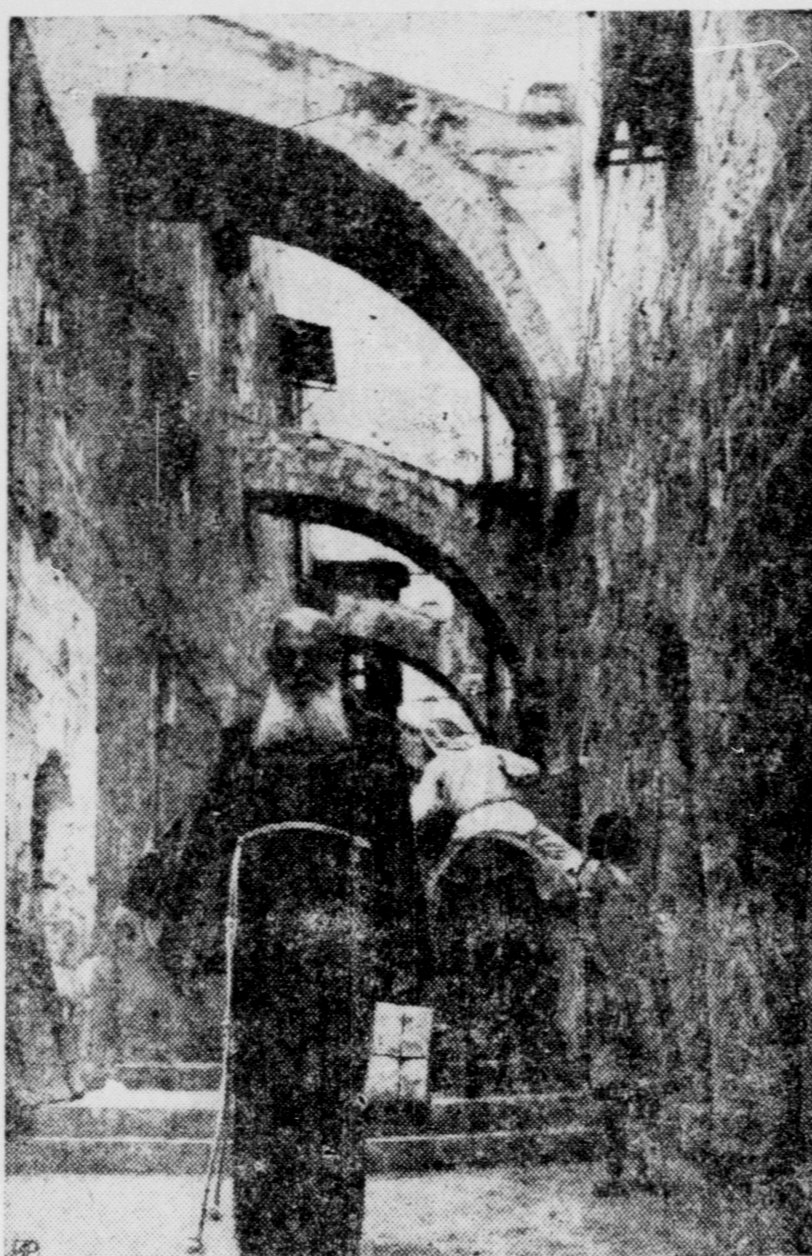

Inside the Garden of Gethsemane today stand olive trees so old they must have formed part of the grove where Jesus prayed on the night of His betrayal. The "Church of All Nations" inside the garden covers an altar of natural rock. Tradition says this was the rock on which Jesus prayed "not My will but Thine be done."

On the evening of Maundy Thursday, Jesus' hour of agony is commemorated by an impressive service called "the hour of silence."

ON GOOD FRIDAY, pilgrims from around the world join to take up the tragic story in a procession following the way of the cross—the path Jesus walked from the time of His trial before Pilate until He was placed in the tomb. This sorrowful walk begins just inside St. Stephens Gate and winds through the narrow, flagstoned streets of Old Jerusalem to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

The procession stops at each of 14 "stations of the cross," where a sermon is preached in the language of the group. Each station marks a dramatic moment in the way of the cross, including the places where Jesus fell under the weight of the cross. During this procession some of the pilgrims usually carry heavy crosses like that on which Jesus was crucified.

The procession ends inside the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, an aged structure covering the traditional site of Calvary and the tomb.

HE WAS HERE: This is the famed "Via Dolorosa" in Jerusalem, where each Good Friday pilgrims retrace Christ's route to Calvary. This point is just beyond the spot where tradition says Simon of Cyrene took the cross from the exhausted Jesus.

The procession climbs a flight of stone stairs to the site of the crucifixion. Here a glass case covers a bit of the rock of the original hill of the execution. A huge crack in the stone is said to have been caused by the earthquake that rocked the earth as Jesus breathed His last.

ON THE EVENING OF Good Friday a solemn burial service is held in this church. A statue of Jesus is taken from a cross on Calvary and placed on the stone of unction, a marble slab near the entrance of the church where traditions say Jesus' body was anointed for burial. Weeping women fall prostrate and kiss the stone as the body is lifted and taken inside a small chapel under the main dome of the church.

Inside this little chapel, with massive candlesticks on either side of the entrance, is the Holy Sepulchre since the Fourth Century. Little is left of the original sepulchre, because most of the rock has been chipped away over the centuries. A marble slab covers the area where Jesus' body is said to have lain.

After Jesus' body was placed in the grave and the rolling stone over the door sealed, His disciples must have suffered the depths of despair. And even after they saw the empty tomb, there were still doubts; some wondered if the body had been stolen.

THIS PERIOD of despair is commemorated in a unique service on the roof of the church by a group of Ethiopian monks. Called "the search for the body of Christ," this service involves a mournful march around the rotunda of the church, with tom toms beating slowly under the Pascal moon. When the words are read from the Bible "He is not here, for He is risen," the group breaks into wild rejoicing.

The most spectacular Easter service is called "The Miracle of the Holy Fire," an age-old Easter ritual symbolizing the resurrection of Christ. Once actually considered a miracle, this ritual involves hanging a flame from inside the Holy Sepulchre through a hole in the side. Waiting outside are thousands of pilgrims, most of them holding candles, tapers and lamps. The holy fire, symbolizing the risen Christ, is passed from candle to candle and like a wave of flame spreads over the thousands who pack the church.

Many oriental Christians light little kerosene lamps with the holy fire and keep them burning throughout the coming year.

RUNNERS TAKE lighted candles from the holy fire and carry them to churches in other parts of Palestine. In centuries past, the fire was taken to churches as far away as Athens and Alexandria, symbolizing the spread of the gospel to the ends of the earth.

By special arrangement, runners take the flame across no-man's-land, to churches on the Israeli side of the line. When this symbol of the resurrection arrives on the Israeli side, the Easter cycle has been completed — from the upper room on the Israeli side to events on the Arab side and back.

The fact that even war cannot prevent the spread of the holy fire from one country to another perhaps has a deep significance to the simple people of the holy land today.

Perhaps this means that there still is hope they may see the end of the conflict which has divided their land, that the day may yet come when their swords and spears will be beaten into plowshares and pruning-hooks and "when nation shall not rise up against nation, neither shall they know war any more."

Comfy, Everybody?

The tender solicitude of congressmen in rushing through emergency postal appropriations typifies one of the great reasons why taxpayers are unable to control spenders.

The spenders always make it appear that what they are doing is essential; that they are interested only in the taxpayers' welfare.

The truth is, with due respect to the Post Office Department, that no one is demanding a restoration of full postal service after week-end's cutbacks. Service is being boosted back to the previous standard solely because congressmen have locked horns with the postmaster general. The welfare of taxpayers is not a primary consideration. It never was. The welfare of public employees and public spenders always looms largest among public officials.

Thomas Jefferson, who had been fearful of extravagance in public life, summed it up like this after his retirement:

"Considering the general tendency . . . to increase expense to the ultimate term of burden which the citizen can bear, it behooves us to avail ourselves of every occasion which presents itself for taking off the surcharge; that it may never be seen here that after leaving to labor the smallest portion of its earnings on which it can subsist, the government shall itself consume the residue of what it was instituted to guard."

The most dangerous fallacy in public affairs is to take at its face value the claim of public officials that what they are doing is for the dear people.

What they are doing is for themselves and any benefit to the dear people is purely coincidental and entirely accidental. That is why U.S. taxpayers are confronted with a proposal for spending 71.8 billion dollars in one year. It is not their idea to spend that much. It is what the spenders would like to spend in their behalf. Jefferson commented about that, too.

"If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of caring for them," he said, "they will be happy."

Ah Yes, The Doctrine

Among the troops potentially ready to move into Jordan for various purposes are troops of the United States, a situation that will come as a surprise to many Americans who already have forgotten the Eisenhower Doctrine.

The Eisenhower Doctrine, proposed on Jan. 5 and belatedly put into effect for what it was worth after debaters had knocked the punch out of it on March 9, commits the United States to defend Jordan against Communist attack if the President decides this is necessary.

It was stipulated in the resolution putting the Eisenhower Doctrine into effect that the country to be defended must ask for help before help can be given. It was left to the discretion of the President to decide whether or not military help should be given.

Yet, with the Eisenhower Doctrine's first test at hand it is so obvious the President has constitutional authority to use military power at his discretion to carry out the foreign policy of the United States that the test is an anticlimax. The possibility of military action in Jordan that would involve U.S. troops does not arise because of the Eisenhower Doctrine. The doctrine was merely intended to be a reminder to the Soviet Union that the chief executive of the United States could act first and talk afterward, if he chose to do so.

When the U.S. Senate talked the proposal half to death from January until March, it squeezed out all its meaning. If the United States were to become involved in military action in Jordan, the reason might well be that U.S. politicians gave the Soviet Union every reason to believe President Eisenhower did not have congressional backing for a policy of going more than halfway to stop Communism in the Middle East.

Reflection Of Prudence

The statement that businessmen are being outdone by union members in tips to Senate racket investigators about the Beck-Hoffa management of the Teamsters union is being made so often it is beginning to reflect on the comparative honesty of businessmen and unionists. It is a stirring tribute to the honesty of many unionists that they are tipping off the Senate investigators about things that should be investigated. But the fact that businessmen are less willing to do the same thing is not a reflection on their honesty so much as a reflection of their prudence.

They have not only their personal safety to consider, as many unionists have, but the welfare of their employees and stockholders. The powerful Teamsters union can and will exert its influence to stop the movement of goods and services wherever it pleases.

It is empowered to do this by sanctions written into federal law. The government, itself, is unable to protect victims of the union's strength, which has not been diminished in the slightest by the Senate investigation of the Beck-Hoffa management of the union's affairs.

Shortsighted Economy

U. S. Information Service Seen As Necessity

Billions for war, but a mere pittance for the dissemination of ideas that could influence peoples abroad, restrain capricious rulers and prevent war!

That's the curious result of the "meat-axe" method of cutting the budget which seems to have been adopted by the Democratic party that controls Congress today.

The proposed cost of armament runs to 38 billion dollars. It is a vital part of the federal budget, because it is counted on to help deter potential enemies from attacking the United States and its allies.

But less than one-third of one percent of what is being spent for armament now has been appropriated by the House of Representatives for the U.S. Information Agency, which has the main responsibility for transmitting the American viewpoint on peace throughout the world.

A cut of 38 million dollars just made by the House of Representatives leaves the U.S. Information Agency 106 million dollars for next year.

This is seven million less than was voted for the current year. Yet the problems of the Middle East and the Far East are no less critical than they were and the task of cementing relations with out allies in Europe has not by any means diminished in importance.

IN AN ATOMIC AGE it is imperative that peoples everywhere should influence their governments to refrain from precipitating a world war. But peoples must have the facts and the information on which to form judgments.

Anyone who has the slightest knowledge of how difficult it is to penetrate the public opinion of foreign countries realizes the enormous task that faces the U.S. Information Agency.

Soviet Russia spends billions where America spends a few millions in communicating with other peoples, especially in the areas of most strategic importance.

The United States is relatively new at the business of exporting ideas. Some mistakes have been made — but not as many perhaps as in the doling out of billions to foreign governments to help rehabilitate their economic structures since World War II.

The objective — to prevent the spread of international communism — is admitted everywhere in Washington to be worth while. But when it comes to supplying the necessary funds to carry on that phase of the "cold war," Congress seems indifferent.

This is not because of partisanship alone. There are other factors. One is the lack of familiarity of members of Congress themselves with the many influences that are operative every day in foreign lands to check American diplomacy and threaten the defeat of our efforts to win the friendship of other peoples.

Favors West, United Merger

To The News: This is an open letter to the citizens of West Local School District, Columbiana County. We are now a part of a new school district comprised of West and United. Some of the facts concerning this consolidation are:

1. The United High School is chartered by the state as a Grade One four-year school. This means that it will be recognized statewide as providing all requirements for college entrance for its graduates.

2. The High School will be a class "AA" school for athletic purposes which will include football, basketball, track, etc. Our students will enjoy fine athletic facilities.

3. The curriculum of the United High School is very modern and includes:

Science dept. with modern laboratories and equipment for all science subjects.
English, speech, and literature
Foreign languages.
Mathematics.
Vocational agriculture.
Home economics.
Commercial.
Industrial arts.
Music (vocal and instrumental) including a uniformed band and glee clubs.

History, civics and government.
Health and physical education.
(Equipment for the above is now on hand and paid for.)

4. The West School will continue to operate for all West Township students included in the new consolidated area.

5. Our 7th and 8th grades will remain in the West School as is the present custom.

6. Should a remonstrance be successful and the consolidation broken up, West Local will be left without funds to open school next September. We will still be left as

Thought For Today

The sea is his, and he made it; and his hands formed the dry land. — Psalms 95:5.

Thou sovereign power, whose secret will controls the inward bent and motion of our souls. — Prior.

THE SOVIET auxiliaries among the intellectuals are numerous in many countries and the press is actually controlled by agents of Moscow in various parts of the world where the U.S. Information Service is trying to offset Communist propaganda.

It's a battle that America cannot afford to lose, and it takes money to fight that kind of warfare.

The U.S. Information Agency makes available free, for instance, the texts of important American pronouncements of policy because the newspapers abroad couldn't possibly afford to pay the heavy costs of cable tolls to get those speeches transmitted.

There are literally dozens of other worth-while projects which are designed to inform the peoples abroad concerning America's peaceful intentions and her humanitarian interest in the welfare of other nations.

Instead of encouraging this work, Congress is shortsightedly discouraging it.

Unfortunately, some members of Congress set themselves up as expert judges of how the U.S. Information Agency should be conducted.

It is, of course, a specialized field. The hearings recently held a show a woeful lack of knowledge by many members of Congress of what it is important to do to win the "cold war."

IT IS SHOCKING to any American who travels abroad to discover how little is known about the United States even in the English-speaking countries.

Very few newspapers and periodicals are sent from America to other countries — only a few thousands here and there.

The vast population of the rest of the world has a scant knowledge of America's purposes and policies. As a consequence, the distortions distributed by the Communists have to be challenged again and again.

If Congress doesn't furnish the necessary money to the U.S. Information Agency, the growth of anti-American sentiment will go unchecked.

Ideas are transmitted in modern systems of communication in a variety of ways. The printed word is important but so also are radio and television and motion pictures.

Many millions who are illiterate may not be able to read books or newspapers, but they do look at movies.

THE POTENTIALITIES of the various means of communication are limitless. Yet the House of Representatives has actually cut down the program of the U.S. Information Agency and evidently prefers to give a clear field to the Communists in this "cold war."

Will the Senate do likewise? What the House has just done is a tragic development — a failure to recognize that war can be prevented only by getting peoples to reject the policies of dictators and by winning the hearts and minds of peoples.

Ideas are plentiful but money to convey them is almost as necessary as any other deterrent force.

an 8-year district with an uncertain future.

7. The United High School will take care of grades 9, 10 and 11 during 1957-58 with all four years during the following years.

8. The consolidation with our support will adequately educate all our children and will prove worthy of our best cooperation.

We should give very careful consideration before signing any remonstrance to break up this consolidation.

Statistics Out Of Hat

By RAYMOND MOLEY

COLUMBIA, S.C. The state of South Carolina has taxed itself and has allocated upwards of 170 million dollars to school districts for school construction since 1951. There is therefore neither need nor a desire here for federal aid.

By a strange perversion of statistics, Secretary Folsom's Department of Health, Education and Welfare relegates this state to the list of the most needy.

The figures and arguments of the Department of HEW in connection with South Carolina provide an excellent example of confused interpretations of the meaning of "need."

In the famous Circular 490, which is a summary of the arguments of the federal administration, it is reported that South Carolina needs 1,953 new classrooms to relieve "overcrowding" and 4,500 classrooms to replace "unsatisfactory" classrooms now in use.

THE FIGURE 1,953, which the Department of HEW would have the public and Congress believe represents a gap which should be supplied with federal aid, is actually an estimate by the state school authorities of the number of classrooms which were under construction in the fall of 1956. Money for these was supplied by the state government.

This gross misrepresentation is explained by Gov. George Bill Timmerman, Jr. as follows:

It seems that the Department of HEW's request for information first went to the South Carolina State Department of Education. That department does not have charge of the school construction program—a fact which the people in Washington should have known.

The State Department of Education, however, examined the federal questionnaire and found that its criteria for the requested information were overlapping and if accepted, would result in misleading information. So the State Department of Education decided to use its own criteria.

It figured that since 52 million dollars had been earmarked for school construction in the fall of 1956 and $25,000 could provide one classroom, the number of classrooms to be built would be about 2,100.

THEN IT DREW the inference that, if these rooms were in process of building, they certainly must be "needed."

When the questionnaire reached Washington, the people there were not satisfied and having apparently found out that the State Department of Education was not the proper source of information, they then sent a questionnaire to the State Educational Finance Commission, which allocates state money to local districts for construction.

The governor is chairman of this commission. The commission has found, out of its experience, that $21,000 and not $25,000 is the proper cost estimate per room. Hence, it arrived at a figure of 1,186 as the number of rooms to be completed in 1956-57 and an overall figure of 1,953 for rooms under construction.

The figure 4,500 is the estimated number of classrooms which, under the state's construction program, are to be replaced by 1960. These rooms, now being used, are old models only by comparison with the new ones already built. They are quite usable and are not obsolete.

They certainly do not represent a "need" which the federal government should meet, since the state is able financially and is planning to replace them in the next three years.

GOV. TIMMERMAN'S conclusion is to the point, considering the misinterpretation which resulted in connection with the foregoing figures: "The problem of school construction is too intricate to be handled at long distance."

Certainly the taxpayers of the nation should not be called upon to pay out billions of dollars on the basis of such careless, misleading, and fragmentary information as can be gotten with questionnaires.

An examination of the facts on the ground should convince any reasonable person that this state needs no federal aid but the zealots who are lobbying for federal aid are not on the ground. They are lobbying in Washington. And they are not reasonable people.

Jordan's Daring King

By JAY G. HAYDEN

A daring assertion of authority by King Hussein of Jordan could prove the most important zig in the tortured course of Middle East events since Gamal Nasser's nationalization of the Suez Canal set off what looked like a drift toward communism in that region.

The important circumstance is that Hussein, operating between Arab and Israel armed forces, each threatening to march at the slightest suggestion of political breakup in Jordan, dared to fire the pro-Communist prime minister and his chief military ally and up to now has gotten away with it.

Specifically neither Communist-tainted Syria, with 3,000 troops already on Jordanian soil, nor Israel, reported as all set to seize the Palestinian portion of Jordan at the slightest excuse, moved on the heels of the Hussein coup.

As this is written not one word has come either from Nasser or from the other two main Arab powers, Saudi Arabia and Iraq.

There is scarcely any doubt that the latter three are watching each other with bated breath. And the most troubled of all Arabs could be Nasser, the bulk of whose military power was wiped out incident to the recent Suez fiasco and who has seemed to be clipping politically since President Eisenhower proclaimed his Middle East doctrine.

THREE FACTS bearing vitally on this situation are:

First, that Israel at this moment probably could take on militarily the whole Arab pack — Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Syria and Jordan—and beat them.

Secondly, that Jordan's British-built Arab legion, 20,000 strong, easily could whip the most Communist-minded of these countries — Syria.

Third, that Israel, much as it would like to add to its territory the former Palestinian portion of Jordan, has no heart for taking over 450,000 Arab refugees, now living in that region largely on United Nations' dole.

The situation in Jordan is confused. As reported in first dispatches, the king had successfully driven into exile the Arab legion military commander, Major Gen. Ali Abu Nuwar and the pro-Communist prime minister, Suleiman Nabulsi.

Later announcement that a new cabinet had been formed, under Hussein Khalidi, anti-Communist but a former Palestinian, probably means that he also is intensely anti-Israel.

Included in the cabinet is Nabulsi, indicative that the new regime is a compromise. Earlier Nabulsi had said he never would serve under Khalidi.

THE BEGINNING of the present crisis in the Middle East was King Hussein's dismissal, March 2, 1956, of British Gen. John Bagot (Pasha) Glubb, creator and commander of the Arab Legion.

After World War I, Britain was accorded trusteeship of Palestine and proceeded to divide it between a new Jewish homeland and the strictly Arab dominion of Jordan. In 1930 Gen. Glubb began setting up his Arab Legion, as many Jews believed, for the purpose of limiting the spread of Jewish occupancy.

The Arab Legion fought gloriously during World War II both against Vichy French forces in Syria and pro-German rebels in Iraq.

In consequence of that service Britain in 1946 granted Jordan independence, with Sheikh Emir Abdullah, a World War ally, as king. When Abdullah was assassinated in 1951 by an Arab fanatic, reportedly in belief that the king was about to make a peace settlement with Israel, he was succeeded by a son, King Talal I. When the latter was deposed as mentally incompetent, the crown passed to Abdullah's 16-year-old grandson, the present King Hussein.

APPROXIMATELY half of Jordan's present population is people of the former Palestine mandate brought under the Jordanian crown by the Arab-Israel war in 1948.

Many remain bitter against Israel and the West and 450,000 of them, as above indicated, are so-called refugees, receiving bounty from the United Nations.

Comprised of an area about three-fourths the size of New York State, Jordan has on its west a 350-mile border with Israel, starting from the Jordan River, flaring west into old Palestine and Jerusalem and swinging back along the Dead Sea. Jordan's other abutting neighbors are Syria, Iraq and Saudi Arabia.

Omission Of Word Nullifies Indictments

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Thursday quashed two secret indictments for retail sales violation against Basil Mangano, East Liverpool auto dealer.

Judge Buzzard had heard arguments Monday afternoon and had continued the case until Thursday afternoon to give attorneys time to file briefs. No further evidence was offered by the defendant's attorney or Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

Judge Buzzard said he quashed the indictments because the omission of the word "wilful" in the indictments made the papers invalid. He ordered the $500 bonds on both charges returned to the defendant.

He then ordered Prosecutor Brokaw to recall the April grand jury and required Mangano to post $500 bonds on the new charges that will be filed against him when the grand jury meets.

Prosecutor Brokaw said he didn't know when he will recall the April grand jury since he has a number of criminal trials coming up, starting April 29 with the murder trial of Raymond Porter, 21, of East Liverpool.

5,000 Eggs To Be Hidden For Children

Easter Egg Hunt Set Saturday At Park

Seven live rabbits will be given away as prizes Saturday morning at the annual community Easter Egg hunt to be held in Centennial Park.

Beginning at 10 a.m. children ranging in ages from 1 to 14 will begin looking for seven golden eggs that will be hidden among some 5,000 chocolate covered eggs.

Sponsoring this year's hunt is the United Commercial Travelers.

Children who find a golden egg will win a rabbit, according to Willis Seymour, UCT youth committee chairman. Seymour says the children will be divided into three age groups, 1-5, 6-8, and 9-14.

All children are expected to assemble before 10 a.m. in the area of Centennial Park between the swimming pool and the ball field.

Assisting in preparations for the hunt are Seymour, Lee A. Burton, Rex Hundertmark, Peter Kane.

WILLIS SEYMOUR, chairman of the community Easter egg hunt at Centennial Park Saturday morning, adds an artistic touch to one of 5,000 eggs which will be hidden in the park for children to find. Practically all of the eggs will be chocolate, however.

men gained entrance to the Mandel Brothers store, in the heart of the Loop.

Two Had Police Records

Lynch identified two of the men as having been arrested previously. He said one of them, Jimmy Rentner, 30, had been released on bond recently on a robbery charge. He said James Wulf, 28, also had been arrested several times. The third man was identified as James Bertimo. Wulf lived in suburban Glencoe and the other two in Chicago.

Bertimo reportedly was carrying a small portable radio which he had tuned to pick up police broadcasts.

There was no evidence of a forced entry to the store. Officers said the three men could have hidden there after Thursday's 8:30 p.m. closing.

from Israel, and few Westerners were among them. Most of the visitors in the Jordan sector were Arab Christians who had come by other routes from Egypt, Cyprus, and Syria.

Because of calendar differences the Eastern and Western Easter usually fall on different dates. Once every four or five years, however, they fall together, and this year they coincide. The various Christian groups had to follow a strict schedule in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre to avoid conflicts.

Muslim visitors also crowded into the city. This Ramadan — a fasting month for Muslims — and the devout like to come to Jerusalem every Friday in Ramadan to pray in the Dome of the Rock, third most holy place in world to Muslims. In an area where a Jewish temple once stood, a beautiful Muslim dome covers the rock from which the Prophet Mohammed is said to have risen into Heaven on his horse.

Moscow Warns Spain Against Joining NATO

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio warned the Spanish people Thursday night against joining NATO. "This entails terrible risks," said the Spanish-language broadcast, which came just a week after the U.S. Congress urged Spain's admission into the Atlantic Alliance.

The Kremlin station told the Spanish people in terms similar to recent warnings to NATO members and other U.S. allies that any soil used as a base for aggression would be subject to retaliation.

"The NATO military technicians want to widen the base of aggression on the two flanks," Moscow radio said, "using for this purpose the Scandinavian and Iberian (Spanish) peninsulas. . . . They think that in this way they will be able to multiply their number of aggressive bases while at the same time decreasing their density and therefore their vulnerability."

"This entails terrible risks which must worry the Spanish people as it is already worrying the French, British and so many other European peoples already enmeshed in the NATO net."

Lays 'Most Important Easter Egg In World'

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—New hope or the almost extinct whooping crane population blossomed today as the Audubon Park's Josephine laid another egg.

Ordinarily, such bird eggs are routine things, but there are only 28 known of the long-legged birds in existence. The pair at the Audubon Park Zoo are the only two in captivity. A single whooping lives at a zoo in San Antonio, Tex.

Zoo Director George Douglass said he is hopeful that Josephine will present her mate, Crip, with another egg in a day or two. Douglass called the event "the most important Easter egg in the world" and said all precautions are being taken.

'Christ Of The Cross' Explained By Speaker

At the Good Friday community service this afternoon, Dr. Jesse M. Bader, who has appeared throughout the week in the noon services, gave the message on "The Christ of the Cross."

"So often we think and speak of the cross of Christ and forget the Christ of the cross," he said. "On Good Friday it is most appropriate that we meditate upon Him. The cross was not a detached episode in the life of Christ. His was an attitude of the cross during all His earthly ministry for He was always giving up and giving out."

"Men asked him for bread and He gave them that. They asked Him for health and He gave them that. They asked Him for truth and He gave them that. Finally, they asked Him for His life and He gave them that," Dr. Bader continued.

The Christ of the cross was a praying Christ, Dr. Bader noted, in that it was natural for Jesus to pray on the cross. He was also a lonely Christ, he said, adding, "There is not any loneliness quite as lonely as leadership. No one understood Jesus. His family did not understand Him. Certainly His disciples did not. No one was willing to stand by Him or with Him at His trial in Pilate's judgment hall. No one was present to speak an encouraging word to Him."

That the Christ of the cross was forgiving was brought out by Dr. Bader in that His request was, "Father, forgive them."

Dr. Bader will preach his final sermon tonight at 7:30 in the First Christian Church when he speaks on "A Fellowship Without Frontiers." He will leave in the morning for a week of speaking at Marshall, Mo.

Former Tennessee Governor Dies At 86

NEWPORT, Tenn. (AP)—Pneumonia claimed the life Thursday of Ben W. Hooper, former governor of Tennessee and prominent Republican leader. He was 86.

As a member of the U.S. Railway Labor Board appointed by President Harding in April 1921, Hooper was given credit for averting a nationwide rail strike. He served as chairman of the board from 1922 to 1925.

Hooper served two terms as governor of this normally Democratic state — from 1911 to 1915. To gain his first term, he had the distinction of defeating the two Taylor brothers, Republican Alfred A. and Democrat Robert L., noted for their campaign for the governorship against each other in 1886.

Hooper won the Republican nomination from Alfred Taylor and defeated Robert Taylor in the general election.

In recent years he had lived in retirement. His widow, three daughters and a son survive.

United

the lone West board member against a consolidation with Minerva, says the people working for the United-West merger include himself, Leo Davis, William Merrick, Carl Murray, William Wolf, Fred Hahlen, Robert Summer, Earl Fleming, Donald Wutrick and William Engle. This group was to have met this morning.

Francis Hall of Winona presided at last night's public meeting, beginning the session with the statement that rumors had been circulated that the merger would be worthless and that United residents wanted clarification on the matter from the United School Board.

United board members present included Howard Blanchard, Walter Blythe, John Brenner, Orlan Weingart, and Elmer Stamp.

Homer Dorr, board clerk, when asked for a financial statement, said that the United situation was not good; that they "stood to be behind about $28,000 at the end of this year."

Dorr also said United was bonded up to the legal nine per cent, or $770,050.

When asked if United would be worse off in the merger, Dorr answered that in his personal opinion it would be.

No Stand Previously Taken

"We (the board) haven't taken a direct position on it (the merger) and we have not been asked to tell them (the county board) whether we were in favor of it or not," Orlan Weingart, board president, told the group.

"We had one meeting when they (the county board) came in and suggested that such a thing be done," Weingart continued. "They said it will not be done now. We said it would be possible that we would eventually take them (West) but we figured a better survey would be made."

Weingart added that he had "not been 100 per cent in favor of it" and that he believed "more information should be given and more of a survey made."

"The decision is the people's choice," he said, adding, "Our district has been in harmony and theirs (West) in disharmony."

A spokesman from the crowd asked what board member had indicated to the county board that United residents would approve of the merger?

Elmer Stamp said that he took the responsibility for that statement, because, he said, the state foundation program allotment for special services to county school districts was based on the number of teacher units.

A loss of any part of the county districts therefore would be a loss of special services, Stamp claimed. He added that the loss of Knox and Unity last year cost the county a psychologist who would have been hired for the county school system.

The general feeling among United residents appeared to be that the district is running smoothly now, and that a merger would only disrupt its cooperation and harmony.

The overall tax valuation of United is over $8 million, the board told the group. West has about $4 million in tax valuation but a portion of that would be deleted because the county board indicated Tuesday it would chop off 3.5 square miles of West and transfer it to Minerva.

A United resident noted that "the extra $4 million valuation from West would not be worth two cents as long as West is dissatisfied" since they might oppose any voting or improvement efforts of the district.

If the merger were to go through, costs to United would be greater, the board brought out. This fall another operating levy will be asked for from United residents, with 10.8 mills now in effect. If West were to come in, the board indicated, a 4-mill operating levy might be put before voters.

890 Pupils Now at United

The bond issue passed by United residents last November will pay for four additional high school rooms, six elementary classrooms and two rest rooms.

United residents say they believe the building does not have the capacity to handle another high school group now. Eight hundred and ninety students attend school at United, with about 160 of that number high school students. West has 104 tuition students now attending Minerva High School.

Board members indicated that United would have to launch a larger scale building program if the merger is effective.

So far, according to the board, applications for 112 first grade students for next year have been received which will add on to the school enrollment since there will be no graduates this year. United, although a 12-year-school, has only one through 10th grade students now. Next year the 11th grade will be added and the year following, a 12th grade.

Another criticism of the merger is that the United district is already large with 75 square miles in the area. The 36 square miles in the West district would make it more cumbersome.

Blanchard, United board vice president, said that previously he had favored the merger but now he "wanted time before he could commit himself."

Weingart said that the United Board has pledged themselves to keeping all United pupils within their district, but that the new United-West board might not feel the same way. In fact, he said, the new board might feel that moving some elementary students to West might solve the situation of where to house the students.

The county has the authority to appoint a new board for the district, and members of the board may or may not have been members of the West or United boards. James L. McBride, county schools superintendent, could not be reached for comment. Walter Holmes of Winona made the motion for United to remonstrate.

MUST END BOYCOTT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Sheetmetal Workers Union has been told to end its 10-year-boycott on installing all ventilating equipment manufactured by the Burt Manufacturing Co. of Akron, Ohio.

An AFL-CIO subcommittee headed by President George Meany issued the order Thursday after studying the issue for several weeks.

The boycott began when Burt employees decided they would rather become affiliated with the Steelworkers Union than the Sheetmetal Union. Officials of the Sheetmetal Union were unavailable for comment, but they had indicated they will continue to refuse to install Burt equipment.

Speed, Not Young Drivers, Cause Most Accidents

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't blame teenagers—or drunks either—for the bulk of the traffic accidents on Ohio's highways.

The No. 1 menace behind the wheel in Ohio is the speeder. According to Ohio Traffic authorities, he or she accounts for nearly half the accidents.

This whole question of why there are so many traffic accidents—and what can be done to reduce them—has been under investigation since last July by a House highway safety subcommittee.

As applied to Ohio—the group held two days of hearings in Dayton last September—the transcript of the proceedings turns up some enlightening, expert opinion.

It was the testimony of Ohio traffic authorities that if all teenagers in the state were removed from the highways "90 per cent of the (accident) problem would remain."

As for drunks, they said these individuals accounted for 12.8 per cent of Ohio accidents in 1955.

But speed, said Capt. D. W. Unkle of the Ohio Highway Patrol, was responsible for nearly half of the 36,000 traffic accidents in Ohio that year.

That statement prompted a question that was asked over and over, Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-La.) asked Unkle:

"Do you feel that perhaps too much speed is being built into our automobiles at the present time?" "As to the speed being built into automobiles, I would probably say 'no,'" Unkle answered.

"But . . . I would have to say the automobiles are too fast for the person, the driver of today."

"He has to be schooled . . . to get him to the point where he handles an automobile the same as he would handle a revolver. It is a weapon of destruction."

Other witnesses went further. Rep. Charles A. Vanik, a Cleveland Democrat, insisted that car manufacturers "must share the responsibility."

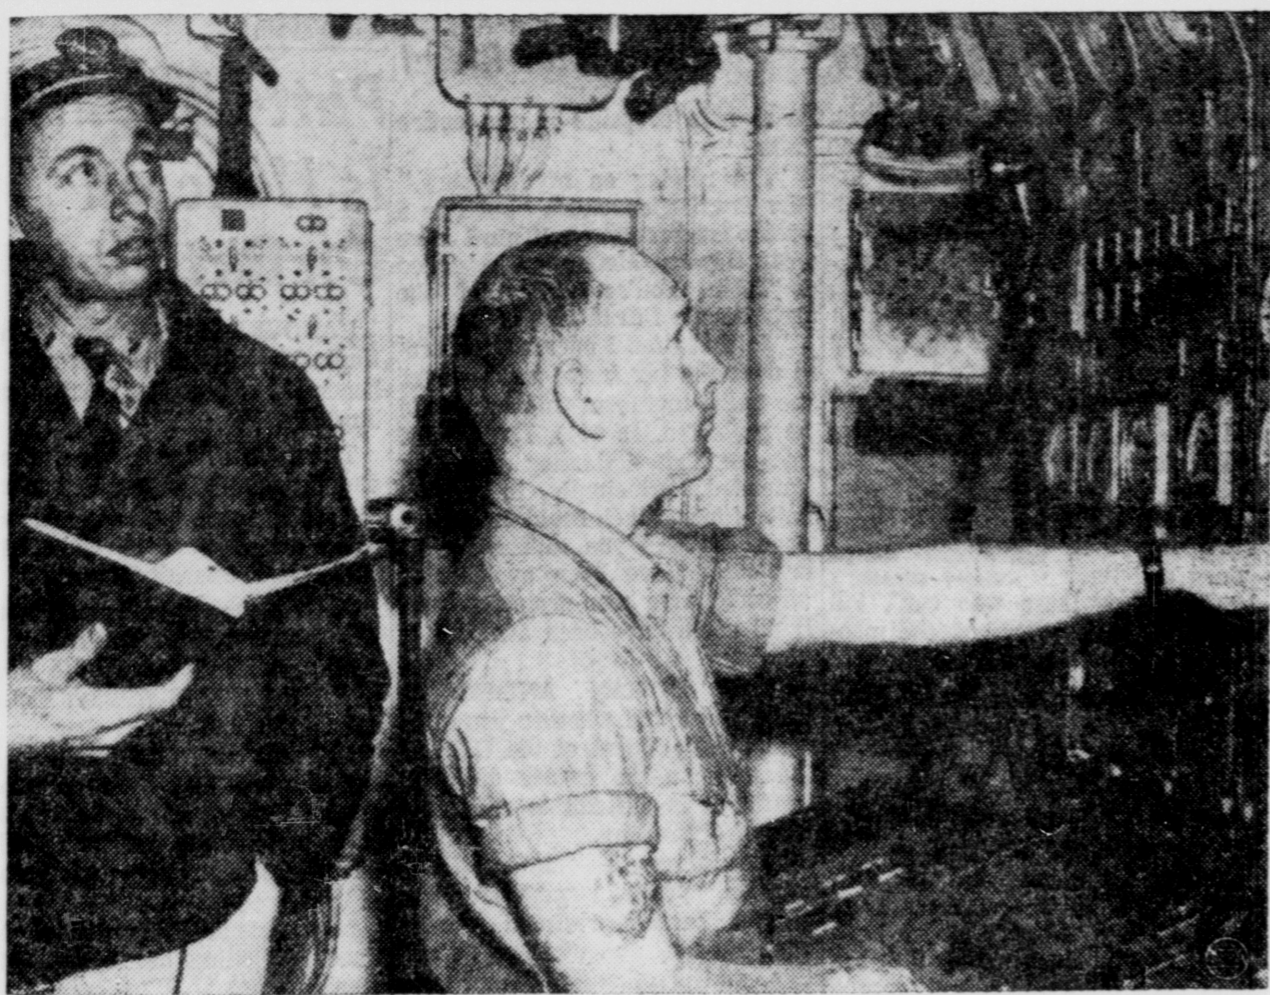

But just about all witnesses—including Vanik—agreed that more driver education is needed and that Ohio needs more rigid licensing to see they have it.

In illustration, Ohio Highway Safety Director U. C. Felty told how an Ohio patrolman stopped a man having difficulty driving.

The man's wife spoke for him. She told the patrolman:

"He is having trouble with his eyes. But I pick out the center line and read the signs for him."

As it turned out, Felty said, the man's "birth date was in March of 1863, and he was . . . practically blind."

INSIDE THE SEAWOLF—The first released interior photograph of the atomic submarine USS Seawolf shows machinist Warren C. Wilson of Marcoline, Mo., left, and IC2 Donald W. Guarding Your Health

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Thyroid Gland Action

Mrs. A. M. asks for a discussion of the very interesting problem of "thyroid conditions for which thyroid pills are taken."

Not knowing exactly what Mrs. M. is interested in it will be necessary to discuss several aspects of the activity of the thyroid gland.

First, it must be said that the thyroid gland, which lies in the front portion of the neck, manufactures a hormone which is placed directly in the blood stream. This hormone has an influence on the general health, the rate of growth, the speed of the heart and several other functions of the body. It also is related to the hormones produced by several other glands.

If the thyroid in infancy or early childhood fails completely to manufacture its hormone a sad disorder known as cretinism results. A cretinous child does not grow normally and is seriously undeveloped. The brain fails to develop normally.

If the diagnosis of this condition can be made early enough, thyroid extract obtained from the glands of animals can be given as a substitute for the normal hormone. Fortunately, cretinism is rare in most parts of the world. It is probably most common in certain regions of the Swiss Alps.

A complete absence of the formation of the thyroid hormone in grownups results in a condition known as myxedema, which is also not common. The hair becomes thin, coarse, and loses its sheen. The skin gets thick and dry. The pulse is slow and there is a peculiar appearance of the skin as though there were fluid lying underneath it. Anemia is almost always present.

A doctor is pleased to be able to make the diagnosis of myxedema because the symptoms can be completely relieved merely by giving the right amount of thyroid tablets by mouth. It is true that his treatment has to be kept up indefinitely. But it is painless and not too expensive.

It is more difficult to diagnose and treat those persons who appear to have an incomplete loss of the secretion of the thyroid hormone. In them, the symptoms may be vague and hard to blame on the thyroid rather than some other cause.

The level of the basal metabolism is often of doubtful meaning. For example, a metabolism which is not lower than minus 15 is usually considered normal. Indeed, a person who has a basal metabolism of minus 25 may not have a true disturbance of thyroid function and may not benefit from thyroid tablets.

In such a case the doctor is hard put to decide whether thyroid tablets should be given. It may be necessary to try them in various doses and observe the effects before any decision can be reached.

Columbiana Boys State Delegates Chosen

Knights Templar Plan Sunday Easter Service

COLUMBIANA—Benjamin Firestone Post No. 290, American Legion, of Columbiana is sending three high school juniors, two from Columbiana and one from Fairfield School, as delegates to Buckeye Boys' State at Camp Perry, near Port Clinton, June 7-16.

Selected from Columbiana are Kenneth E. Warrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Warrick, and William Longworth, son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Longworth of the Methodist Church; from Fairfield High, Louis Groubert, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Groubert, RD 1, New Waterford.

Delegates are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and interest in civics, Paul E. Reeves, Boys' State chairman of Firestone Post, reports.

Boys State is under the direction of the Ohio Department of the Legion. A simulated state government is set up under a two-party system. Entertainment includes a program of sports.

SALEM Commandery, Knights Templar, will hold its Easter sunrise service in Columbiana Methodist Church at 6:30 Sunday.

Rev. A. R. Brown of Columbiana, commander, will be in charge. Mrs. Mary Hinerman will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple," and Mrs. Kay Lodge will present a marimba offertory solo.

Following the service, the knights and their families will have breakfast at Dal Young's restaurant, E. Park Ave. Ext.

Child welfare and Pan-American month was observed at the April meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Firestone American Legion Post in the post home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Claudia Cunningham, chairman of the committee on child welfare, gave a report on work in behalf of children of veterans, and Mrs. Lucy Boyles, chairman of the Pan-American committee, gave a talk on "Honduras," the Central American country under consideration this month.

Plans were discussed for a mother-daughter banquet to be held Wednesday evening, May 15, place to be announced later. The spring conference of 10th district Legion auxiliaries will be at Minerva, on Monday, June 24.

Mrs. Ora Millen, member of the auxiliary who had both legs broken in an automobile accident last November, is still in North Side Hospital, Youngstown. It is expected that the casts will be removed from her legs soon.

AT THE APRIL meeting of the Sorosis Club in the public library, Wednesday evening, Mrs. A. E. Wisler read a paper on "Clubs in Other Lands," and Mrs. Virginia Felger reviewed the book, "The Public Arts," by Gilbert Seldes. Miss Nellie Koch was hostess.

Guest night will be observed at the concluding meeting of the club year, Wednesday evening, May 15. Thirty-six students will represent Columbiana High School in scholarship tests at Mount Union College tomorrow.

Don R. Gosney, Columbiana county Democratic chairman, has appointed three Columbiana citizens on the committee for the Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner to be held Saturday evening, May 4, in St. Paul's School, Salem. Appointed are Mayor E. L. Calvin, R. G. Bevington and Carl L. Stacey.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas will be the principal speaker, and Congressman Wayne L. Hays will be honored for his election as president of the NATO parliamentary conference.

Columbiana county Democrats plan a full day for Mr. Rayburn, who will be taken on a tour of Columbiana county industries if time permits. Delegations are expected at the dinner from the remaining counties of the 18th district, Belmont, Carroll, Harrison, and Jefferson.

Installation of officers for the Ladies' Auxiliary of York Drexler Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is set for next Friday evening, April 26, with Mrs. Pauline Drexler as the installing officer.

Plans are also being made for the immediate past presidents banquet at Johnny Carneau's smorgasbord and restaurant on Route 7. Members may make reservations by calling Mrs. Odene Keslar, 2-4681.

Reports Resignation Of Frank Newbury

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Tribune said today that Frank D. Newbury, assistant secretary of defense and only recently named head of the Pentagon Research and Engineering Office, resigned Thursday.

The Tribune, in a dispatch from Washington, said Pentagon officials said Newbury, 76, submitted his resignation to Defense Secretary Wilson, reportedly "as an outgrowth of pressure from research science groups who complained that Newbury, an engineer, laid too much stress on engineering and practical applied research on new weapons."

Newbury, a former Westinghouse electric corp. vice president and long time acquaintance of Wilson, had headed the engineering office since 1953. It and the research office were merged under him last February.

Ohio Legislature Begins Recess

Appropriations Bill Defeated In Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An attempt to guarantee that hard-won appropriations for public improvements would not lapse before work is begun was defeated in the Ohio Senate Thursday. Ohio's lawmakers then began their weekend recess.

The defeat was passed on Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton), the senator who led the onslaught Wednesday which defeated a bill aimed at trapping and destroying pigeons on Statehouse grounds.

Deddens' proposal to guarantee the life of public improvement appropriations until projects are completed needed 21 votes for Senate approval.

It got only 17. The 14 opponents of his proposed change in the state constitution would neither confirm nor deny that the opposition of some of them stemmed from Deddens' hard-hitting attack on the pigeon bill.

Under the constitution, an appropriation for a public building or water conservation dam, for instance, is good only for the life of the Legislature which granted the money. Unless the project is put under construction in the two-year life of the Legislature, the appropriation dies automatically.

Deddens' proposal had a chance for approval Thursday until the roll call reached the name of Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens). Mechem's unexpected and resounding "no" drew immediate support from other Republicans and Deddens—whose traditional nickname in the Legislature is "dynamite"—went down to booming defeat.

Beginning Monday, the Ohio House will start to work extra hours each week in the drive toward late-May adjournment. The Senate will begin its speedup the following week.

The House will meet Monday afternoon, but the Senate will delay its Monday afternoon sessions for seven days. Both plan Thursday afternoon sessions this week. Normally both Houses adjourn by noon each Thursday.

Before the weekend recess was declared Thursday.

The House passed and sent to the Senate the second of three big money bills to operate the state for the next two years. The measure carries more than 145½ million dollars for state aid for the aged, crippled children, disabled workmen and for vocational training and rehabilitation.

Without a dissenting vote, the House sent to the Senate bills to:

Remove the present limit on levies for support of municipal universities, permit levies for police operations similar to those now permitted for fire department running expenses, eliminate a requirement for city council approval of assessments levied by county commissioners for sewer improvements in districts embracing cities, permit district assessments to keep storm sewer ditches open, and authorize county commissioners to increase top appropriations for historical societies from $15,000 to $25,000 in Ohio's larger counties.

Dizzy Dean Offered Hollywood Contract

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dizzy Dean, who used to be a pitcher and now is a baseball announcer, may soon be a movie star.

C. V. Whitney, who heads a film producing company, said he has offered the onetime St. Louis Cardinals pitching ace a "four-week, five-figure" contract to appear in "The Missouri Traveler."

Ol' Diz, who reportedly favors the deal, would play the part of a small town storekeeper, Whitney said.

OLDEST RESIDENT DIES

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held Monday for Sebastian Fieser, believed to be the oldest resident of Trumbull County before his death Wednesday night. Fieser, who was 102 Feb. 22, died at his home of a heart attack. His wife Martha died six years ago at 101.

He is survived by a daughter, Louise, a teacher in the Warren school system, and a son, Dr. James Fieser, for 25 years vice president of the American Red Cross.

JESUS LOVED THEM

By PATRICK and GARRISON

THOMAS

"Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe."
—John XX:25

Thomas, called Didymus, which signifies a twin, has come to be known as the embodiment of man's doubt. Although he readily became one of the disciples of Jesus, he was never fully aware of the Master's real identity and power.

Countless times Thomas had witnessed Jesus' answers to all the questions put Him by a curious multitude. He had witnessed the miracles, and had heard Jesus say, "Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldst see the glory of God?"

But believing came hard to Thomas. The doubting apostle evidently regarded Jesus as a man with unusual powers of suggestion, by which He controlled the minds of others, and consequently their bodies.

He remained quietly observant during the days of his association with Jesus. Secretly, he was convinced that a logical, reasoning mind would require more proof than a Carpenter would be able to provide that He and God were one, and that He spoke the truth.

To Thomas, Truth was what could be known, not something deeply intuited or inwardly sensed and experienced.

He was not satisfied even with the testimony of his eyes and his ears. He had to add the proof of his hands as well.

He never learned the great spiritual truth—that a man cannot see what he does not believe.

All the while that Jesus talked of His Kingdom to come, a Kingdom "not of this world," Thomas dreamed of a tangible, substantial, political realm on earth.

It is not surprising then, that although he had once asserted that he was ready to die for his Master, when he saw the soldiers coming up the hillside, with their armor and weapons gleaming in the light of torches, he turned and fled with the others.

When his friends brought him the joyful news that Jesus had indeed risen from the dead as He said He would, Thomas refused to believe it until he had felt the Savior's wounds.

Said Jesus: "Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed."

Easter Hat Madness

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The Easter hat madness has an unusual victim this year—Blanche Thebom, the only girl in grand opera who can stand on her own hair without bending her knees.

I feel like I had dived into a lily pond, and came up with a lily on my head," said the sprightly Metropolitan Opera star as she put on the first hat she had bought in 14 years.

The beautiful mezzo-soprano gave up hats about the time she started letting her hair grow long. Now it is, over six feet in length and the singer, who is about 5 feet 7 inches tall, actually can let it down and step on it.

Miss Thebom, who usually gets along by stocking a flower or a jeweled ornament in her hair, went on a bonnet buying spree this season because she is going to England soon. It wouldn't do to bump unexpectedly into Queen Elizabeth with nothing but a vintage orchid in her tresses. No indeed.

Blanche isn't a girl who goes in for half-way measures. She descended on the hat shop operated by Mr. John, the noted chapeau designer, with the enthusiasm of a pirate raider.

Her enthusiasm was matched by that of Mr. John, weary at the moment of decorating girls who affect short bobs or even crew cuts. "I also hate those tortured curls—those French-fried curls," he murmured. "A woman with long hair is a pleasant challenge."

"For a long-haired woman, the hat simply must be in proportion. Hat design, after all, is basically architecture, which (after all) is basically proportion."

Mr. John, whom Napoleon is said to resemble, tosses off bon mots like this all day long on a six-day week. (Sunday he practices.)

He came into the trying on room with half a dozen colorful wide-brimmed hats. They bore such romantic titles as "visiting butterfly," "royal garden party," "meeting in mayfair," "brunch with a beefeater" and "tea with a total stranger."

Mr. John is indeed a veritable madcap—whether working in prose or satire.

One hat which was two feet wide and named "windsor afternoon"—or was it "nightcap with a knight"?—caught Blanche's eye.

"This is a black palace portrait hat," murmured Mr. John. "made of layers of summer black taffeta with a black petticoat brim (sure, hats wear petticoats), caught with a single summer rose, also black."

Intoxicated either by Mr. John's haunting creations or his haunted descriptions, Miss Thebom wound up with about a dozen bigbrimmed hats, including "fascination," "trooping of colors," and "spring in London."

said Blanche stoutly, "you might as well wear a mad one, so that a man can look at it condescendingly."

"That's one of the reasons for wearing a hat—to give a man something to feel smug and superior about."

Cleveland Scores 8-3 Win Over Detroit In 11 Innings

Smith, Maris Hit Homers

Clubs Will Renew Series Tomorrow

DETROIT (AP)—Perhaps General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians should renew the premium he offered the Tribe last season for any game they played in less than two hours.

Maybe he should increase the amount above $100 to add incentive.

In Detroit's home opener Thursday before 31,227 fans the Indians went 11 innings and 3 hours, 35 minutes to win from the Tigers 8-3.

In Cleveland Tuesday before 31,145 opening day fans the Indians went 11 innings and 3 hours, 29 minutes to lose to Chicago 3-2.

Eleven bases on balls handed out helped Cleveland in its opener, and eleven bases on balls received helped win for the Tribe Thursday.

The Indians' hitting so far has been sparse, although they got their first home runs Thursday. Al Smith crashed one into the lower left field seats in the second inning after George Strickland had walked.

Roger Maris, rookie left fielder, slugged the other into the upper right field stands off reliever Jack Crimian with the bases loaded by walks in the eleventh. The winning run had been scored earlier in that inning by George Strickland, who doubled off Al Aber, took third on winning pitcher Ray Narleski's sacrifice bunt, and scored on Bob Avila's sacrifice liner to left.

Singles by Avila and Rocky Colavito in the first inning, with a base on balls from southpaw Billy Hoelt in between, produced the game's first run.

The Tigers, who out-hit the Indians 11-9, scored a run off starter Bob Lemon in the fourth on a walk and Ray Boone's double. They added two more in the sixth when Lemon was removed. Boone singled the first of these home runs off Harvey Kuenn and Charlie Maxwell had singled, and pinch hitter Mel Clark's force-out grounder to first brought home the other.

Cleveland's new manager, Kerby Farrell, wasn't around for his first major league victory. Umpire Jim Honochick ejected him midway in the eighth inning for arguing about a seventh-inning play. Kerby was backing a contention of catcher Jim Hegan that Boone should have been called out on a foul tip. Hegan caught, Honochick ruled the ball wasn't tipped.

After a Good Friday rest, the two clubs renew the series here tomorrow with Early Wynn going for the Indians and either Paul Foytack or Frank Lary for Detroit.

Braves Beat Redlegs 1-0; Yankees, White Sox Win

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Here we go again. Lew Burdette says he doesn't throw a spitter. Birdie Tebbetts insists he does. "A cheating spitter," says the Cincinnati manager. But Warren Giles says "you have to prove it to me."

Whatever Burdette, Milwaukee's shutout ace, does when he spins his stuff for the Braves, old Satch Paige had a term for it — "outpsychologizin' the hitter."

That's what Burdette had in mind when he said "It's the best pitch I've got—and I don't throw it," in reply to Tebbetts' renewed cry after the Redlegs lost to the big righthander 1-0 Thursday.

It was the eighth successive time Burdette, who led the National League with six shutouts midweek, has whipped Cincinnati and Tebbetts is "pretty tired of him getting away with murder."

Burdette, who insists Burdette "went to his mouth before every pitch," chirped so loud his boss.

Tebbetts accuses Burdette of throwing spitball.

By CHUCK CAPALDO

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Good Friday calm settled over Milwaukee County Stadium today in the agitated wake of heated charges by manager Birdie Tebbetts of Cincinnati that the Braves' Lew Burdette is "a cheating spitter."

The next move, if any, is up to National League President Warren Giles. Redlegs General Manager Gabe Paul said he would forward a formal protest to Giles today, based on Tebbetts' allegations.

Tebbetts, who many times in the past has accused Burdette of an illegal pitch, but never of actually throwing a spitball, did so Thursday after the fidgety righthander had shut out the Redlegs 1-0 in the Braves' home opener.

Told that the victory was Burdette's eighth in a row over the Redlegs in the last three seasons, Tebbetts' rosy complexion turned beet red and he roared:

"Yeah, but he's done it illegally. He's a cheating spitter. Burdette is the only pitcher in the league who goes to his mouth before every pitch. Rule 8.02 says he's not supposed to do that, but the umpires say he can go to his mouth as long as he wipes off his hand before pitching."

Burdette's reaction to Tebbetts' blast was, as usual, one of amusement. Said the controversial, 30-year-old pitcher:

"It's a perfect day. I've got Birdie chirping. It's the best pitch I've got and I don't throw it."

Later, Tebbetts, who holds a college degree in psychology, said he would not file a formal complaint, but would seek an interpretation of rule 8.02 from the National League office in Cincinnati.

However, Paul, in Cincinnati, said he would file a protest.

Giles, reached in New York Thursday, said he never had received a formal protest against Burdette "or any other pitcher in the league" and that until someone "presents evidence that he (Burdette) is using the spitter, I'll do nothing about it."

Asked if he could prove his allegations, Tebbetts, a former catcher, said:

"Sure, I can prove it by every hitter in the league. If he doesn't throw a spitball I've wasted my catching career of 16 1/2 years."

Mims Ends Layoff; Is Favored Over Beecham

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Holly Mims, Washington, D. C., middleweight veteran, ends a five-month ring layoff tonight in the unusual role of a favorite when he meets Jimmy Beecham of Miami in a 10-round television bout.

Mims was figured about 8-5 to gain his 43rd victory in 63 fights. Beecham, who says his own natural fighting weight is the welter division, was an upset decision victim of Mims in their previous meeting last November.

Tonight's bout will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC starting at 10 p.m. (EST). Ten points will go to the winner of each round.

Mims, 28, hasn't fought since his unanimous decision over Beecham.

Beecham, 22, was expected to weigh about 150 and Mims a bit heavier.

Hitting Gene Baker, Cubs — drove in four runs with a triple, double and single in four trips in 10-2 victory over St. Louis.

General Manager Gabe Paul, decided to lodge an official protest today and ask Giles, the league president, for a clarification of rule 8.02, which states a pitcher cannot "apply a foreign substance of any kind to the ball" under penalty of a 10-day suspension.

"Until someone — the umpires or someone — presents evidence that Burdette is using the spitter, I'll do nothing about it," said Giles, adding that "a lot of pitchers make a hitter think they're throwing a spitter, but there's nothing illegal about it."

Legal or not, Burdette's victory, fashioned on Hank Aaron's first home run of the year in the sixth inning off loser Hall Jeffcoat, handed the winless Redlegs a second defeat and left the Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers the only unbeaten clubs in the league.

The Dodgers, with Sal Maglie throwing a four-hitter, knocked off Pittsburgh 6-1. The Chicago Cubs cracked 15 hits to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 10-2. And the New York Giants kept Philadelphia winless 6-2.

In the American, the winless Detroit Tigers lost their third in a row, this time to Cleveland, 8-3, in 11 innings. The New York Yankees again had to rally in the ninth, beating Boston 3-2. Chicago's White Sox handed Kansas City its first defeat, 6-2, behind Jack Harshman's four-hitter. And Washington finally became a winner with a 6-4 job on Baltimore.

Maglie, who will be 40 a week from today, struck out five and walked three while gaining a 23-5 lifetime record against the Pirates in his 200th major league start. The lone Pirate run was unearned. Duke Snider, the NL's defending home run king, smacked his first of the year and Gil Hodges hit his second for the Brooks, who cracked southpaw Luis Arroyo and three relievers for 14 hits.

Young Moe Drabowsky, the Cubs' bonus righthander, permitted just four hits in whipping the Cards. Gene Baker led the assault on Murry Dickson and four Card relief pitchers, driving in four runs with a triple, double and single. Stan Musial, his back in shape, played his 77th consecutive game, but was hitless.

Ruben Gomez, backed up by Hank Sauer's 250th home run, and beat the Phils and Curt Simmons with an eight-hitter.

Rookie Roger Maris made his first major league home run the major's first grand slammer of the season, capping a five-run 11th for the Tribe. Bobby Avila's sacrifice fly scored the run that broke a 3-all tie. Ray Narleski won it with Al Aber the loser, both in relief.

Pete Ramons gave up only three hits in 6 1/3 relief innings to win for the Senators. Ray Moore, who walked 10, was the loser.

The Yankees needed a pop-fly RBI triple by Gil McDougald and Elston Howard's single for two ninth-inning runs in edging the Red Sox and Frank Sullivan, who retired 19 in a row at one point. Bob Grim won in relief.

Harshman rode in one back-to-back homers by Minnie Minoso and Sherm Lollar, good for three seventh-inning runs and a solo shot of his own in the eighth. Loser Alex Kellner and Joe DeMaestri homered for the A's.

Proposes Way To Keep Baseball's Reserve Clause

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP)—Frederic A. Johnson today came forward with a proposal under which baseball could operate within the law and still keep its famous reserve clause.

Johnson, a New York constitutional lawyer whose arguments in the Gardella case in 1949 first he would like to see Congress pass baseball's legal shell, said a law under which:

1. The present baseball farm system would be abolished, perhaps over a period of several years.

2. A team could have only 40 players under contract, 25 of which would be its major league squad, and the other 15 would be in the minors.

3. All players under contract to a team would have pension rights, whether in the majors or minors. At present the pension applies only to the majors.

Ever since antitrust actions involved professional football and the International Boxing Club there has been talk in Congress of passing a law bringing baseball under regulation. The Supreme Court in a recent decision hinted that such a law would be acceptable.

USC Coed Wins AAU Springboard Title

By PATRICK MC NULTY

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Paula Jean Myers, a pretty University of Southern California senior, is the America's new 3-meter springboard champion.

She took the title Thursday night as the National AAU senior women's indoor swimming and diving championships closed a three-day meet.

Miss Myers, representing the Indian Springs Aquatic Club, of nearby Montrose, nosed out Jeanne Stunyo and defending champion Barbara Gilders, both of the Detroit Athletic Club.

Four records in four tank events were broken. They were:

The 100-yard butterfly — Nancy Ramey, Washington Athletic Club, Seattle, Wash., swam 1:01.9, breaking Olympic winner Shelley Mann's world record of 1:04.1.

The 100-yard backstroke — Carin Cone, unattached, Ridgewood, N. J., turned in a 1:03.9, bettering the world mark of 1:04.6 set by Holland's G. Wielma; the American record of 1:04.8 held by Maureen Murphy, Portland, Ore., and the national indoor time of 1:06.4, set by Miss Mann.

The 250-yard freestyle — 13-year-old Chris von Saltza was clocked at 2:42.9, topping the American and women's indoor record of 2:45.4 held by Dougie Gray of the Walter Reed Swim Club, Washington, D.C.

The 400-yard medley relay — the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club, sped 4:27.2, erasing the 4:27.4 recorded by the Walter Reed Swim Club at last year's meet at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Properly chastised by the weather and the course in the first round, the field of 23 professional golfers were to tee away today in the second round of the $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

Leading the field were Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., the 1954 United States Open champion and 27-year-old Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who reigned as king of the nation's amateurs in the same year before turning pro.

All hands hoped that one of the factors that sent scores high in the first round would be missing today. That would be the hard wind that swept the fairways Thursday and coupled with cold and intermittent bursts of rain, made life most unhappy.

Tied at 73, one shot back of the pace setters, were four threats. They were Gene Littler, 1955-56 winner; Art Wall Jr., 1954 winner; Jimmy Demaret, playing well; and young Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.

The one-two pre-tournament Las Vegas betting favorites, Cary Middlecoff and Dow Finsterwald, fared poorly. Each had a 75.

And two official protests were lodged against Middlecoff for his slow play. Complaining were Furgol and Bob Rosburg, playing behind Middlecoff, the 1956 National Open champion. There were other unofficial protests. Middlecoff, paired with Don January, finished 30 minutes behind the twosome ahead of them.

Cleveland, Packers In Player Swap

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, rich in quarterbacks but poor on defense, Thursday traded signal caller Bobby Garrett and linebacker Roger Zatkoff to the Cleveland Browns for six players, five of them defensive specialists.

Coach Liz Blackburn of the National Football League Packers, said he was "happy to get these boys because they will give me a lot of experience in the defensive unit."

Blackburn indicated the Packers still have some dealing to do when he said "there will probably be more developments later."

In exchange for Garrett and Zatkoff the Packers received quarterback Babe Parilli, end Carlton Massey, halfbacks John Petibon and Billy Kinard, tackle John Macerelli and center Sam Palumbo.

The way was cleared for the trade when the Packers Thursday signed veteran quarterback Tobin Rote for his eighth season. Rote, who had talked earlier of retirement got about a $1,500 increase in pay to put his annual salary at $20,000. In addition to Rote the Packers also have second-year man Bart Starr and former Notre Dame guard Paul Hornung available for quarterbacking duties.

It was anticipated that if the Packers swing any more trades, Parilli would probably figure in them.

The Babe is a former Packer, and was acquired by the Browns in 1954 in exchange for Garrett. Garrett has not seen any duty with the Packers because he's been in the service.

Parilli, who entered the service after the trade, returned to the Browns last year, but Cleveland Coach Paul Brown said "we gave him a good test and were disappointed."

"Garrett is the key figure in the deal for us, due to our wide open quarterback situation Brown said. "We always did wonder what we could have done with Garrett, and now we will have a chance to find out. He is a smart young man and has a strong arm."

Cleveland quarterback ranks were sliced even thinner last week when George Ratterman announced his retirement.

Dallas — Art Swiden, 191, Pittsburgh, outpointed Buddy Turman, 186, Fort Worth, 10.

Wood County League Awarded Franchise
WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The National Baseball Congress has awarded a franchise to the Wood County Baseball Assn. in Ohio, it was announced today.
The nine-team association is a member of the National Assn. of Leagues for non-pro clubs. Members include Hoytville, Deshler, Wayne, Rossford, Pemberville, Weston, Luckey and two teams from Bowling Green.
Glen Sharp of Bowling Green is league president and Dean Roach, sports editor of the Bowling Green Sentinel-Tribune, is secretary.

THE OHIO DIVISION of Wildlife has announced that May 1 is the deadline for sportsmen's clubs wishing to apply for pheasants under the 50-50 pheasant program.
Progressive sportsmen's organizations wishing to take part in this project can get application forms and additional information from their local Game Protector or their District Wildlife Officer.
By participating in this plan, the clubs can accomplish two objectives. They can help the Division of Wildlife increase its game farm production so that additional pheasants can be released in Ohio this year. The clubs can also secure a proportionate share of this increased production for their own locality.
This year the Division will be able to provide up to 40,000 six weeks old birds for the 50-50 pheasant program. This will be in addition to the 35,000 birds to be produced for general release on public hunting areas.
YOUNG WILD ANIMALS should be left in the fields and woods and not adopted as pets according to the law enforcement section of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.
On the assumption the young animals have become lost from their parents, many young rabbits,

Mansfield, Ohio Field Events Are Scheduled

By HAL PARIS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two popular early-season track headlines—the Ohio Relays at Ohio State University and the Mansfield Relays—are slated this weekend.

The 15th annual Ohio Relays, boasting a record field of 600 entries, gets under way here Saturday.

A card embracing 26 events, including one-mile relays for high schools, colleges and universities, is on the agenda.

All Western Conference schools except Minnesota and Iowa are entered, along with Notre Dame and Pittsburgh. Other out-of-state teams include Butler, Kentucky, Chicago Track Club, Western Michigan, Eastern Michigan, Wayne, St. Joseph of Philadelphia, Illinois A. C. and New York A.C. Ohio schools participating include Miami, Ohio University, Baldwin Wallace, Ohio Wesleyan, Denison, Wooster, Bowling Green, Youngstown, Western Reserve and Kent State.

At Mansfield, at least 112 schools and 1,302 athletes are booked for the 26th annual cinder classic, which opens action with a four-mile relay event this afternoon. Seventeen other events are on the program Saturday.

Teams from Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and West Virginia will vie for the high school crown captured last year by Pontiac, Mich.

Akron North and Cleveland John Adams, co-titlists last year in Ohio, Mount Lebanon, the Pennsylvania state champion and Pontiac, Michigan's track king, are entered in the meet.

But top contenders appear to be powerful Cleveland East Tech, winner four times in the last six relays, Lakewood, Pittsburgh Central Catholic and Mount Lebanon.

Top performers competing in the Mansfield track and field carnival include Dave Mills, Lakewood's 440-yard dasher; Norm Bass of Springfield, a specialist in the 180-yard low hurdles, and Dan Sutherland, shot put star from Berea. All three were state champs in Ohio last year.

Heading the list of entries in the Ohio Relays is Glenn Davis, Ohio State's versatile star; Greg Bell of Indiana, generally regarded as the most serious threat to Jesse Owens' broad jump record; Dave Owen, Michigan, shot put; Al Urbank, Illinois, high jump; Ira Murchison of Western Michigan, who shares the world record in the 100-meter dash; and Willie Mays of Indiana, Big Ten champ in the 120-yard high hurdles.

170 At Damascus Hot Stove Meeting

About 170 persons attended the Damascus Hot Stove League meeting in the Goshen High School last night to hear John Herman, Ohio Hot Stove League vice president.

Herman explained the operation of the league and its value to the community. He offered Salem support in the organization and operation of the Damascus leagues.

Parents have been mailed letters for signatures and when the releases which permit their boys to play ball are returned, the youngsters will be classified in accordance with their ages.

The Damascus Hot Stove League board members are Alvin Carr, chairman; Herbert Whitaker, Frank Chepke, Donald Lane, Ronald Schaeffer, Robert Loudon, and Delmar Court.

Sal Maglie, Dodgers — struck out five, walked three while pitching a four-hitter in his 200th major league start for a 6-1 victory over Pittsburgh with the lone Pirate run unearned.

OSU Researcher Reports Findings Of Project

Reports More Than 21% of 'White' Americans Are Descendants of People of African Origin

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio State University researcher said today a study indicates that more than 21 per cent of Americans classified as white are descendants of persons of African origin.

And from the study, said Dr. Robert P. Stuckert, graduate instructor of sociology at the university, "it is possible to estimate" that in less than two generations more than half the persons classified as white will have some African ancestry.

He said one conclusion stands out from the data in the study: "The belief in the racial uniformity of an individual's ancestor may be the basic myth of the white man's past."

In a speech prepared for the 66th annual meeting of the Ohio Academy of Science at Bowling Green State University, Dr. Stuckert said the research project was undertaken "to determine the validity of the popular belief in the non-Negro ancestry of persons classified as white."

Statistical computations in the study were based on a number of assumptions. With one exception, said Dr. Stuckert, the assumptions made "would tend to minimize the final estimate."

At one point in the study, two alternative assumptions were made. One was on a basis of selective mating; the other on a basis of random mating.

Explaining this, Dr. Stuckert said: "Under selective mating, the probability of whites of non-African ancestry mating with persons classified as Negro is one-tenth of what would be expected if mating were random."

On the selective mating assumption, the study showed that 21.1 per cent or 28,423,000 persons had African ancestry out of 135,215,000 persons classified as whites in 1950.

On the random mating assumption, the percentage of whites with African ancestry in 1950 would have been 54.9 per cent or 74,202,000 persons.

Dr. Stuckert said he believes the 54.9 per cent figure approximates a maximum estimate, but that the 21.1 per cent figure probably is an underestimate.

But, he said, either of these estimates is sufficient to indicate that the popular belief in the non-African background of white persons is invalid.

An Ohio State research team told the academy that a low I.Q. and a "negative attitude" toward things in general apparently share some relationship to juvenile delinquency.

The researchers said that "potentially delinquent" 12-year-old boys tested had a "much lower" I. Q. than potentially non-delinquent boys.

The "bad" boys, for example, on the "threshold age" of delinquency, were found to be about a year and a third behind "potentially good" boys of the same age and environment in arithmetic and reading, according to a report given by Dr. Simon Dinitz, Miss Barbara Kay and Dr. Walter C. Reckless.

Dr. Dinitz and Miss Kay are members of the university Sociology Department staff. Dr. Reckless is from the School of Social Administration.

Tattles On Your Insides—

Billed as the tiniest broadcasting unit in the world, the capsule-like object, above, is designed to give inside information on the human body. Approximately 1 1/2 inches long, it is swallowed just like a pill. Changes of pressure in the gastrointestinal tract are sensed by a flexible diaphragm built into the device. It in turn varies the frequency of signals sent out by a tiny, battery-powered, transistorized oscillator. As the capsule travels through the intestinal tract, signals are monitored and recorded by a receiver outside the body. Doctors then interpret the record in terms of medical information. Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, left, co-inventor of capsule, plays "patient" for Dr. John T. Farrar at Rockefeller Institute in New York City. RCA built the tiny, mobile radio broadcasting unit from Dr. Zworykin's design. He is an affiliate in biophysics of the institute's medical electronics center.

SAYS OHIOANS AROUSED WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohioans by the thousand, says the state's Republican senator, John W. Bricker, "think we're back in the old New Deal philosophy." They're aroused, he told a news conference Thursday, over President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget. Bricker says it can be trimmed by five billion dollars.

Bricker said he received some 3,000 letters from Ohioans protesting the size of Eisenhower's budget. Most of the letters, he said, were responses to appeals he made through Ohio newspapers for suggestions on where to cut down on government spending.
